Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains
Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Ott Haynes of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."
Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

FATHER Darkleaf

One fine thing about Virginians is the way we keep up with family connections. And nothing delights us more than to find some previous unthought relation. However, the business of tracing relatives, like most others, has its pitfalls. This week, one of our most prominent citizens was telling Father Darkleaf about being in Norfolk some years ago, and upon glancing through a phone directory saw a man of his family name listed. Out of curiosity, becontacted the man, just to see what he might be and to add behold the fellow turned out to be a negro.

• • •

Which reminds us that Stratton Nottingham, late well known Virginia genealogist, was employed to trace a certain family tree. For weeks he searched old records and finally found the ancestor sought. He straightway telegraphed his client: "I have got the client wired back: "I don't care about your ni . . . I want ancestors."

• • •

Father Darkleak hears this week of two sets of nice twin calves.

• • •

That abandoned railroads pay no taxes and that the money they formerly paid must come from other sources is pointed out by the Morristown Cove (Pa.) Herald in a recent editorial which follows:

"Last year 1,995 mile af our main tracks on railways were abandoned; the year before the total was about 100 miles less. At first no one thought much about it, but now all over the country tax collectors and tax payers have been rudely awakened to the fact that abandoned railroads pay no taxes and that the money they formerly paid must come from somewhere else. It is far from a welcome fact, too, with taxes already sky-high.

"We cannot expect the railroads to list forever in such an uphill fight. We must put them on an equal footing with all other means of travel and freight-hauling. If we do not do so we will find that our railroad investments (including those held by banks and life insurance companies) are practically worthless, and that we are carrying the tax load formerly paid by the rails.

• • •

Our new linotype operator (we slipped in long enough to set this on him) is a hustling youngster, from Roxboro: Dick Puckett. Dick has been a great help to ye olde county paper in the past two issues and if we are correctly informed, is waxing popular with the fair sex around town.

MORE PEOPLE ON FARMS

There were more people "down on the farm" on January 1 than at any time in the history of the country, reports the Bureau of Agricultural Economics which says that over since the depression the trend in the number of persons living on farms hasbeen upward.

Bent Creek Has Storm

Trees Blown Over And Number Of Buildings Are Damaged

Bent Creek, June 19— The worst wind and rain storm in a long while visited this place last Friday evening. Trees that had stood firmly for many years had to succumb to its violence. An old tree that has been hanging over the Bert Creek road in the hill, was blown down and in about while after the news reached here a large light was placed so as to prevent anyone from driving into it.

The stable of Mrs. Vergie Stephens was blown several feet with her cow in this building, but the cow received no injuries. Some large trees were blown down in the church yard at Maple Grove, but the building was not struck. Part of the roof was blown from G. M. Dixon's house and one building blown over into the Creek. Several trees were uprooted.

The farmers are getting behind with farm work owing to so much rain. Some have commenced cutting wheat.

Miss Fannie Dixon, who has been quite ill is thought to be improving at this time.

Mrs. F. G. McCormick, who spent some time at the Lynchburg hospital is home again very much improved.

Mrs. Lois Woody, who was operated on for appendicitis last week is improving.

Attends Conference

Richmond, Va., June 15—Leaving Charlottesville last Tuesday afternoon Governer Peery went to Biloxi, Miss., where he attended the annual Governor's Conference and where he was called upon to deliver the response to the address of welcome. The Governor's Conference, which has become one of the outstanding annual national events, was organized in 1908 by President Theodore Roosevelt. It is supposed by practically all of the governers of the states, and has existed in its membership such men as Woodrow Wilson, Charles Evans Hughes, and Franklin Roosevelt. Governer Peery will return to his office in Richmond next Monday.

BRONZE UBST OF HOUSTON

Invitations have been issued from the office of the Governor to the unveiling of a bronze bust of Sam Houston, which is to stand in the hall of the old House of Delegates at Richmond. The bust is a gift to the state from Mrs. Malcolm W. Perkins and was modoled by the sculptor W. William Sievers. The oration will be delivered by Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, President of the Washington and Lee University.

Among distinguished guests may be named Hon. R. Walton Moore, of Va., Asst. Sec. of State; His Excellency, Hill McAlister, Governor of Tenn., and former Governor Pat M. Neff, of Texas.

The ceremony will take place at the state capital building Tuesday after noon, June 18th, at 3:30 o'clock. Governor George C. Peery will preside.

Projects Appoved

Approval was given by secretary of Agriculture Wallace last week to Virginia's allotment of $7,426,954 in Public Work Administration funds for highway construction and the elimination of railway grade cossings.

Wallace has supervision over the United States Bureau of Public Roads which oversees the expenditure of all federal highway funds assigned to the 48 states.

The sum announced some weeks ago, includes $8,652,667 for roads bridges and street paving and . 3,774 for grade crossings.

Henry Shirley, State highway commissioner is awaiting word from Federal road officials as to the rules governing the expenature of the PWA money before making any plans.

On Sunday, June 16, Mr. Thomas H. Martin celebrated his 80th. birthday at his home near Oakville. His one sister, Mrs. Sue Moore, was present, but his only brother, was unable to attend. His nine living children were all there and 32 of his grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren. Four grand children were unable to get there. Besides these there were many nephews and a host of good friends. In all there were 115 present.

A delicious picnic lunch was served on the lawn. In the afternoon the children enjoyed games on the lawn, while the grown-ups engaged in social conversation. Pictures were taken. During the later part of the afternoon the whole crowdwas entertained with string music, which were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Martin received many gifts and many good wishes for more happy birthdays.
